rights of women and the girl child as an inalienable, integral and indivisible part of universal human rights,

Welcoming the Programme of Action of the International Conference on Population and Development, held at Cairo from 5 to 13 September 1994, 7/ which, inter alia, called upon all Governments to prevent all international trafficking in migrants, especially for the purpose of prostitution, and for the adoption by Governments of both receiving countries and countries of origin, of effective sanctions against those who organize undocumented migration, exploit undocumented migrants or engage in trafficking in undocumented migrants, especially those who engage in any form of international traffic of women and girl children,

Recalling also the recognition by the World Summit for Social Development, held at Copenhagen from 6 to 12 March 1995, 8/ of the danger to society of the trafficking in women and children,

Welcoming also initiatives taken by the Commission on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice 9/ and the Ninth Congress on the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders, held at Cairo from 29 April to 10 May 1995, 10/ towards criminalizing clandestine traffic in illegal migrants,

Concurring with the conclusion in the Platform for Action of the Fourth World Conference on Women, held at Beijing from 4 to 15 September 1995, 11/ that the effective suppression of trafficking in women and girls for the sex trade is a matter of pressing international concern,

Recalling General Assembly resolution 49/166 of 23 December 1994 and Commission on the Status of Women resolution 39/6 of 29 March 1995, 12/

Acknowledging the work done by intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations in compiling information on the scale and complexity of the problem of trafficking, in providing shelters for trafficked women and children and in effecting their voluntary repatriation to their countries of origin, 12/ Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, 1995, Supplement No. 6 (E/1995/26), chap. I, sect. C.

Noting with concern the increasing number of women and girl children from developing countries and from some countries with economies in transition who are being victimized by traffickers, and acknowledging that the problem of trafficking also victimizes young boys,

Convinced of the need to eliminate all forms of sexual violence and sexual trafficking, which are violations of the human rights of women and girl children,

Realizing the urgent need for the adoption of effective measures nationally, regionally and internationally to protect women and girl children from this nefarious traffic,

1. Notes with appreciation the report of the Secretary-General on the traffic in women and girls; 13/

2. Invites Governments to combat trafficking in women and children through nationally and internationally coordinated measures, at the same time establishing or strengthening institutions for the protection of the victims of trafficking of women and children, and to ensure for victims the necessary assistance, including legal support services that are linguistically and culturally accessible, towards their full protection, treatment and rehabilitation;

3. Also invites Governments to consider the development of standard minimum rules for the humanitarian treatment of trafficked persons, consistent with internationally recognized human rights standards;

4. Urges concerned Governments to support comprehensive, practical approaches by the international community to assist women and children victims of transnational trafficking to return home and reintegrate into their home societies;

5. Encourages Member States to consider signing and ratifying or acceding to the Convention for the Suppression of the Traffic in Persons and the Exploitation of the Prostitution of Others, 14/ international agreements on the suppression of slavery and other relevant international instruments;

6. Recommends to the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights that he include the traffic in women and girls among his priority concerns;

7. Recommends also to the Centre for Human Rights of the Secretariat that it include the traffic in women and girls in its programme of work under its advisory, training and information services, with a view to providing assistance to Member Governments, upon their request, in instituting preventive measures against trafficking through education and appropriate information campaigns;

13/ A/50/369.

14/ Resolution 317 (IV), annex.

8. Requests the Commission on Human Rights to encourage the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery to continue to address the issue of the traffic in women and girls;

9. Invites relevant intergovernmental as well as non-governmental organizations to provide advisory services to Governments, upon their request, in planning and setting up rehabilitation programmes for victims of trafficking and in training personnel who will be directly involved in the implementation of these programmes;

10. Decides to focus the International Day for the Abolition of Slavery, 2 December 1996, on the problem of trafficking in human persons, especially women and children, and to devote one meeting of the fifty-first session of the General Assembly to the discussion of this problem;

11. Requests the Secretary-General to submit to the General Assembly at its fifty-first session, under the item entitled "Advancement of women", a comprehensive report on the implementation of the present resolution.
